
Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, and Transgender Returned Peace Corps Volunteer Association

Mentorship:

Through our diverse network of Peace Corps Volunteers, past and current, we are able to provide you mentorship opportunities. To be matched with a mentor, contact us directly at lgbtrpcv@lgbtrpcv.org or join our Facebook group or listserv to search for your own mentor.

Safe Zone Training:

Our website hosts a robust archive of different Volunteer and Peace Corps-produced trainings regarding diversity, sexual orientation, and gender identity. All of these materials and resources are free for Volunteers to pursue and adopt for use in their country of service.

Stories by Country:

In an effort to strategically capture, celebrate, and promote the Queer Volunteer experience, we collect stories from returned and currently serving Volunteers. They are hosted on our website to highlight the range of opportunities, challenges, and successes that our community encounters during Peace Corps service. Interested in contributing a story? Contact us.

Advocacy:

Our Steering Committee members work closely with both the regional recruiter offices of Peace Corps, Peace Corps Headquarters in Washington, DC, and the National Peace Corps Association to confirm a consistent dedication to Queer needs and concerns as it relates to recruitment, retention, and transition of Peace Corps Volunteers.
